“We were able to just be present and enjoy it”

The venue looked beautiful and everything came together exactly as we’d hoped.

What mattered most to us was being able to relax and actually enjoy the day with our family and friends, rather than worrying about what was happening behind the scenes. Everything flowed really naturally and we were able to just be present and enjoy it.

The whole day gave us some brilliant memories, and Draycote Hotel was a huge part of that. We’d happily recommend it to anyone looking for a welcoming and beautiful place to get married.
